Aquilla Tipton[6], (1800-1875), (#659-H) married Nancy Waller, 24 of January, 1822(see p.). They went to Missouri and among their children was a Jared (Jarret) Tipton, born about 1830-34, since Jarrett Daniel Tipton was born in Ohio and his wife born in Missouri, this may be the one we are considering here. 7. Calvin Augustus Tipton[8], born ca. 1872.

8. Newton Alonzo Tipton[8], born ca. 1874.

James Daniel Tipton[8], (#6 above), son of Jarrett Daniel Tipton[7], was born in Ruby Valley, Nevada, 17 April, 1870 and died at Phoenix, Arizona, on December, 4, 1945, age 75. He married Dora Nail, in Phoenix, on 21 December, 1898, born 16 March, 1881.

James Daniel Tipton went to Arizona with his parents in 1876. Five families had joined forces to migrate from the high, widly beautiful Ruby Mountian country to find a more congenial clime to the south and southwest. Two of the migrant families turned west for California and were subsequently massacred by the Indians before they reached their destination. But the Tipton party, which crossed the Colorado at Lee's Ferry, made it without incident.

After crossing the Colorado, the Tiptons pressed on with their 300 head of cattle and horses and arrived in the vicinity of Prescott in 1876. Within a week Indians had stampeded their cattle in all directions, but most of them were retrieved a short time later. While at Prescott, the family lived in town and the cattle grazed on the open range country near Willow Creek.

Not long afterwards the Tiptons drifted down to the Camp Verde country where they settled for awhile near the Sears and Kaye corssing of the Verde River. Tow years later they moved to the Phoenix area and went into farming and growing pasture crops.

James Daniel Tipton became a famous cowboy, which started when he was just a toddler. His formal cowboy career began when he was 17, already an experienced cowhand, he went to work for Pete A'Latourette at Camp Verde, a famous Arizona cowman. Afew years later James married Dora Nail and the commenced farming in the Isaac District.

In the fall of 1906 he became cattle inspector for Maricopa County and while on that job he bought the Double Seven Ranch from Frank Asher, 8 miles northeast of Castle Hot Springs. This ranch he ran until 1942, when he retired. Thousands of cattle bore his brands. He experimented with and developed many fine breeds of cattle, finally settling on Herefords. He became famous for his ability to judge the weight of cattle
